Order of the Cayman Islands

The National Honours and Awards Bill, passed in 2010, recognises distinguished service to the Cayman Islands community. These honours may be granted posthumously and do not interfere with any granted by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, the Governor or Cabinet, nor do they supersede any award bestowed by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. The National Honours and Awards Committee advises the Premier on granting awards in three categories, based on public nominations. The Leader of the Opposition is consulted before the appointment of committee members.
